Cosmic

© 2018 albert-learning.com

Vocabulary

Observatory: a building from which scientists can watch the planets, the stars, the weather, etc.

Trajectory: the curved path that an object follows after it has been thrown or shot into the air.

Nebulous: not clear and having no form.
Example: She has a few nebulous ideas about what she might want to do in the future, but nothing definite.

Primordial: ancient, existing a very long time.

Cavern: a cave, especially one that is large and mostly underground.

Blaze: a bright, hot gleam or glow.

© 2018 albert-learning.com

Introduction

The cosmos is the universe. Cosmos is used at times when the universe is regarded as a complex and orderly system or entity; the opposite of chaos. The cosmos, and our understanding of the reasons for its existence and significance, are studied in cosmology 'Cosmic' is an adjective referring to the characteristics of the noun 'cosmos. The things that are cosmic are relating to outer space and the universe.

© 2018 albert-learning.com