

English for computing

Vocabulary

Annotation: A comment attached to a particular section of a document.

Co-marketing: A partnership between two or more companies where both companies jointly market each other's products.

B2B: Short for business-to-business, the exchange of services, information and/or products from one business to another.

Intranet: A network belonging to an organization, usually a corporation.

Webinar: Short for Web-based seminar, a presentation, lecture, workshop or seminar that is transmitted over the web.

An installation guide contains supplied instructions on any suitable media, which guides the installer through the installation process.

An error or fault in a computer program or system is called a bug.

A program that contains a large number of bugs, and/or bugs that seriously interfere with its functionality, is said to be buggy.

Multitasking is a method where multiple tasks, also known as processes, are performed during the same period of time.

Multitasking contrasts with single-tasking, where one process must entirely finish before another can begin.

Googling means searching through the Google search engine.

Ego surfing: usually referred to as Googling yourself and sometimes called vanity searching, egosearching, egogoogling, autogoogling.

someone who spends a lot of time at the computer is called a mouse potato.

Friending is the act of making and adding friends online through social networking sites.

A player of an online game who harasses other players is called a griefer.

A small message sent by a user of the website Twitter is called a tweet.

Quiz...

An error or fault in a computer program or system is called a _____.

Please explain the difference between single- tasking & multi-tasking.

Friending is the act of making and adding _____online.

Searching through the Google search engine is called _____.

Reviewed By	Reviewed On	Comments / Changes Made
Vidyesh	07-09-2015	N.A
Anisha	27.02.2016	N.A.
Payal	18.03.2016	Changed the font in all the slides.