VOCABULARY

Look-Book: a set of photographs displaying a fashion designer's new collection, assembled for marketing purposes.

Off-the-Rack: (of clothes) ready-made rather than made to order.

Craftsmanship: (in this context) the quality of design and work shown in something made by hand; artistry.

Strike a Balance: choose a moderate course or compromise.

Flattering: enhancing someone's appearance. Antonym: Unflattering.

Compulsive: resulting from or relating to an irresistible urge, especially one that is against one's conscious wishes.
