These are excerpts from news bulletins, some words are highlighted, we would like you to pay special attention to these:

- Members of any fandom are passionate, but Game of Thrones and Star Wars actress Gwendoline Christie was put in an awkward position–during the Game of Thrones panel at Comic-Con–when she was asked which of her fan bases was "crazier".

- The UK economy grew by 0.3% in the three months to June, driven in part by a booming film industry, said the Office for National Statistics (ONS). "While services such as retail, and film production and distribution showed some improvement in the second quarter, a weaker performance from construction and manufacturing pulled down overall growth," said Darren Morgan, ONS head of national accounts.
