Albert Einstein

© 2018 albert-learning.com

Vocabulary

Theoretical: concerned with or involving the theory of a subject or area of study rather than its practical application.

Euclidean geometry: a mathematical system attributed to Alexandrian Greek mathematician Euclid.

Distortion: a change to the intended or true meaning of something.

Denounce: to criticize something or someone strongly and publicly.

Rupture: (especially of a pipe, a vessel, or a bodily part such as an organ or membrane) break or burst suddenly.

Aneurysm: a swollen area on the wall of an artery.

© 2018 albert-learning.com

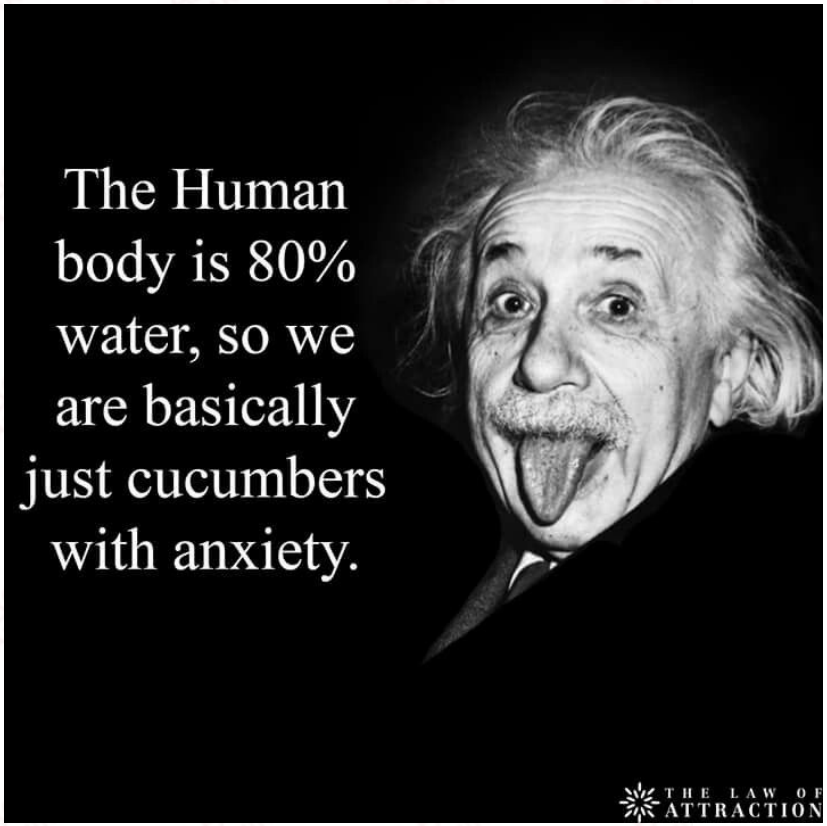
Introduction

Albert Einstein was a German-born theoretical physicist who developed the theory of relativity, one of the two pillars of modern physics. His work is also known for its influence on the philosophy of science. He was born on March 14, 1879, and died on April 18, 1955. He received honorary doctorate degrees in science, medicine and philosophy from many European and American universities.



© 2018 albert-learning.com