Quantifiers

© 2018 albert-learning.com

Introduction

Much and many are quantifiers which are used to indicate the amount or quantity of a countable or uncountable noun.

© 2018 albert-learning.com

The use of much and many

- Much is used with singular nouns

There isn't much food in the fridge.
(NOT There isn't many food in the fridge.)
You have given me too much cheese.

- Many is used with plural nouns.

Were there many people at the meeting?
(NOT Were there much people at the meeting?)
How many shrimp did you catch?

© 2018 albert-learning.com