CV or Resume?

© 2018 albert-learning.com

Vocabulary

To straighten something out: to organize or correct something.

Concise: short and clear, expressing what needs to be said without unnecessary words.

Tailor: to make or prepare something following particular instructions.

Customisable: used to describe something that you can change according to a customer's or user's particular needs.

Relevant: related to a subject, suitable for a particular purpose.

Aka: the abbreviation (also spelled a.k.a.) for 'also known as', which is used when someone has another name.

Interchangeably: in a way that can be exchanged without making any difference or without being noticed.

© 2018 albert-learning.com

ALBERT LEARNING

Introduction

Ever wondered why a British person applies with a CV and an American with a resume? And why does an Australian apply for a job with both? There are a few differences between the two types of application documents. So, let's straighten it out.

© 2018 albert-learning.com