

Much Ado about Nothing

Much Ado About Nothing (Range Of Intensifiers-1)

A2 – B1

Module 5

Here's What We Will Be Learning
in this Presentation:

Summary

- ❑ What Is An Intensifier?
- ❑ Intensifiers "Very", "Really", "Quite", "So" and "Too".
- ❑ Exercises.

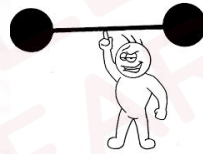

What Is An Intensifier?

An intensifier is a word, especially an adverb or adjective, that has no meaning itself but is used to add force to another adjective, verb, or adverb.

The intensifier puts more stress on a word.

For example:

An extremely strong man.

It is a very interesting story.

In these two sentences, “extremely” and “very” are used as intensifiers, adding force to the words “strong” and “interesting”.