

How Diwali is celebrated across India

Vocabulary

Vim and vigor: full of energy and enthusiasm or high spirit.

Eg: Even though my grandmother is in her 80s, she is still full of vim and vigor.

Triumph: a very great success, achievement, or victory ( when you win a war, fight, or competition.

Vigour: strength, energy, or enthusiasm

Pomp: Impressive and colourful ceremonies, especially traditional ceremonies on public occasions.

Scrumptious: tasting extremely good.

Blissful: extremely or completely happy

Spectacular : an event or performance that is very exciting to watch and involves a lot of people

Introduction

The festival Diwali is celebrated across India and it's filled with vim and vigor. The scintillating festival stretches beyond cultures and religions, embracing and enveloping all. Many destinations celebrate it in a slightly different way and each place wears its own beauty during the festive days. There are plenty of traditions and cuisines followed across the country during this festival, each distinctly standing out.

