

French History

Vocabulary

Extravagance: excessive or unnecessary expenditure of money.

Frivolous: not serious or sensible in content, attitude or behaviour.

Decapitate: to cut off the head of someone

Trigger: to initiate a chain of events, scientific reactions, psychological process, etc.

Onset: a beginning or start.

Introduction

France is a European country which has been in existence for over a thousand years and marked with some of the most important events in European history.

Boundaries of France:

Germany and Switzerland to the east,
Italy to the southeast,
The Mediterranean to the south ,
Andorra and Spain in the southwest,
The Atlantic Ocean to the west,
The English Channel to the north,
Luxembourg & Belgium to the northeast

