

Interview Formats

Vocabulary

Interviewer: a person who interviews someone, especially as a job.

Interviewee: a person who is interviewed

Adapt: make (something) suitable for a new use or purpose; modify.

Icebreaker: a thing that serves to relieve inhibitions or tension between people.

Co-curricular: (of an activity at a school or college) pursued in addition to the normal course of study.

Laid back: relaxed and easygoing.

Cautious: (of a person) careful to avoid potential problems or dangers.

Demeanor: outward behaviour or bearing.

Professionalism: the competence or skill expected of a professional.

Sarcastic: marked by or given to using irony in order to mock or convey contempt.

Introduction

What is an interview?

An Interview is a conversation between two people i.e., the interviewer and the interviewee, where questions are asked by the interviewer to obtain information from the interviewee

Types Of Interviews

Every employer has a preferred style of obtaining the information they need for their hiring decision. These are some basic types of interview styles you may encounter. Some employers may choose to utilize a combination of different styles, but as long as you've prepared well for your interview, you'll be able to adapt to the situation they present.