Introduction

We all face with stress in our day-to-day life. But laughter can help our mind be at ease. Humour helps you to keep a positive, optimistic outlook through difficult situations, disappointments, and loss.

Laughter is really contagious. Just hearing someone laugh signals your brain and readies you to smile and join in the fun. Humour and playful relationships strengthen relationships and builds emotional connection. Humour allows you to be spontaneous and express your true feelings.
