Introduction

Marriage is a commitment between two individuals to lead a happy, peaceful and prosperous life amidst all the problems that they may encounter in the course of their married life. Mutual respect for each other, never imposing one's views on the other, engaging in a debate, discussion, argument and even fighting but never hurling abuses at each other or compromising one's self respect are the key ingredients that constitute a happy modern marriage. Let's look at some modern approaches to marriage.
